

In October/ November 2016 European Security Academy organizes the third Intelligence Driven Security Course. This course comprises seven gatherings in which you get insight in modern tools to define new and emerging threats, to detect the impact for your organisation, foresee events and respond fast, focussed, successful and efficient.

This course explains the context that shapes today's world to enable you to understand how society is increasingly more volatile than just a few years ago. This course is meant for Managers, Executives and Professionals in Public as well as in Private organizations who are responsible for Governance processes. You learn to practically exploit data from sources at your disposal in a practical manner and to develop and apply intelligence processes in a transparent, traceable and systematic way. This will enable you to act decisively and enhance the security capabilities and resilience of your organization.

During all meetings the "Chatham House Rules" apply in order to encourage a free flow of opinions. During these sessions various senior professionals from the law enforcement, intelligence and security organizations will share their expertise, e.g:

- Bram van der Meer- President of the Association of European Threat Assessment Professionals
- Marielle den Hengst- Lector Intelligence Police Academy
- Ruud Kloppenburg- former Corporate Security Shell

Testimonials Candidates first edition

"This unique course teaches you a new developed way of approaching an incident and how intelligence plays a major role in getting to the root cause of the incident."

"This course is a must do for all specialists/ managers in the field of security. This mind blowing course will provide you with a better and more advanced insight of the world and its threats."

"this, first time given, IDS course has triggered me to think during and afterwards. The course distinguishes itself of other courses by its level and contents. I would recommend it to every security manager and policy maker who wants to make a difference."

DATES

October 13, 26

November 10, 24

December 8, 22

January 5

All meetings will start at 09.00 and will end around 20.30

Venue: Duinzigt, Rhijngheesterstraatweg 40 D, 2341 BV Oegstgeest.

Why you should attend this course

- How to significantly increase your security without capital investments
- Increase the level of security, while avoiding CAPEX dilemmas
- Learn how to identify future organizational disasters
- Detect who is stealing your secrets, your customers, your market share
- Learn to spot espionage efforts and stop them
- Why most unseen revenue losses are caused by your own personnel and how to learn the indicators that give them away
- Discover lost ROI from assets you did not know that they were valuable
- How to design an Adversary MO and model Adversary mechanisms
-

Registration:

you can easily register through: info@europeansecurityacademy.eu

Please register before September 15 1 2015.

For additional information +31 71 565 1271

Costs

Costs for this Course are €4195 (VAT excluded). Luncheon, coffee/ tea and network drinks & snacks included.